

Kristin Nickells
Nickellsilver Business Solutions Inc

Kristin has over 25 years of experience providing business training and services to professionals and small business owners. Her educational background in business administration and accounting forms the basis of the services she offers and a post graduate Certification in Executive Coaching from Royal Roads University rounds out her ability to coax out the inner entrepreneur, inspire leadership, and impart grass roots business fundamentals to professionals and entrepreneurs.

Kristin is an entrepreneur herself; founder and CEO of Nickellsilver Business Solutions Inc. and has managed her own company for nearly three decades. These years of being self employed enable her to relate first hand to the challenges faced by budding entrepreneurs. A large part of Kristin's business activities involve management services and training for dental professionals and Kristin is very well versed in both their unique challenges as well as specifics of the business of dentistry.

Under the umbrella of Nickellsilver, Kristin's services include accounting system set-up, management services, Executive Coaching, business training, and public speaking.

Kristin grew up in Victoria, B.C. and currently lives about two hours north of there in the ocean-side town of Parksville, B.C. She is an avid golfer, a competitive curler, and a grandmother of one and a half little girls (#2 is due in June 2010).
